

The world that God has given us is good
We must care and give respect to all creation
Living on our earth the way we should
The world that God has given us is good

When God made the earth it all was perfect
Everything was beautiful and new
All creation living life together
Just as he intended us to do

We have all been given a commission
To take good care of everything on earth
Live each day as one that counts for ever
Keep our planet's future life preserved

Half our world enjoys a life of plenty
Everything we need to live and more
Half the world is struggling for survival
Needing hope and dignity restored

Everyone around the world is special
Loved by God and we should love them too
Caring for our sisters and our brothers
We will share this earth our whole life through
